The 83d annual meeting of the American Bible Society was held at New York: receipts, $100,267; legacies, $176,671; total, $370,084; disbursements, $366,629; balance March 31, $3,535. Incidentally he also leases and controls $50,000 acres of pasture on which he has a herd of 50,000 high grade cattle.

After being president of the Southern Baptist Convention for a dozen years, Judge Haralson, of the supreme court of Alabama, declined re-election, and ex-Gov. W. J. Northen, of Georgia, was unanimously chosen to succeed him, after Gov. J. P. Eagle, of Arkansas, had asked that his name be withdrawn. Lansing Burrows, D. D., and O. F. Gregory, D. D., the secretaries, were unanimously re-elected.

The Whitsitt controversy has been settled at last by the trustees of the Southern Theological Seminary accepting the resignation of the doctor as president of the institution. He was in addition fired as a member of the faculty. Dr. Whitsitt had been president of the seminary since the death of Dr. Broadus in 1895. The casus belli was the statement of Dr. Whitsitt that history said that the Baptists sprinkled prior to 1641. The war has been on a year or two and the result is decided victory for Dr. Eaton and the Western Recorder.

The book committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, made a report defending the course of the church in the matter of the collection of the war claim against the government. The $100,000 fee paid Maj. Stahlman is held to be not excessive. All the same, however, nobody will believe that the whole business is not a swindle and a shame upon the church.

Apropos of this the Nashville district conference of the Methodist Episcopal church in its session last week disapproved of the methods resorted to by the servants of the church in procuring the passage of the bill in the United States Congress appropriating $288,000 to the church and resolved to purge the church of the shame and disgrace that has been brought upon it.

STANFORD IN THE VALLEY.

I've strolled through towns of much renown
That boast of street and alley,
But for me I like the town
Of "Stanford in the Valley."

I like its plain, kind-hearted folk,
I like their honest candor,
I like their characteristic talk
Of happy days back yonder.

I like their unpretentious ways,
I like their love of honor,
I like their paper, as it says
To morals it's a donor.

I like this bustle of towns,
I like the country round it,
I like the rolling green mounds
That everywhere surround it.

A people thus endowed must live
To strew life's days about them
And to each the other give
No cause to do without them.

Let young and old their love unfold
To Susan, John and Sally
And join as one in praise untold
To "Stanford in the Valley."

Written by Dr. J. B. Wells, of Louisville, on a recent visit to the city.

BANK TAX DECISION.

The supreme court has decided the bank tax cases and ended the long litigation. By this decision the banks which were direct parties to the original suit decided when Judge Pryor was on the bench are sustained in their contention; that is, they are protected under the rule of "res judicata." On the other hand, the banks claiming a like protection because of what is known as the Barker agreement lose; that is, the supreme court holds that the agreement to abide by the decision can not be used for the protection of the banks whose rights were not specifically passed upon by the Kentucky courts.

The National banks are protected, as in the case of the Owensboro decision; that is, the court holds that the Kentucky law taxing the banks direct is contrary to the Federal law, and that the only way to reach the National banks is to tax the shares of the banks in the hands of the holders.

There are 40,000 sufferers congregated at Lourdes, France. Wasted forms, wasted arms and legs, faces devoured by disease, deformed bodies abound on all sides. Amid all this misery, however, shines the star of pure faith, a light that brought the multitude to pray in the grotto and bathe in the pool.

Prof. Cervello, at the Palermo Hospital, Italy, has invented what he claims to cure consumption. The principal feature of the cure is the inhalation of gas produced by a powerful antiseptic called formalina. He says he has cured 20 persons in the last stage of the disease.

ROBBED THE GRAVE.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated as follows: It was a most dreadful condition. Mr. Oliver almost yell'd for pain, tongue coated, pain continually in the back and sides, no appetite—gradually getting weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying "Emetic Bitters" and to take a good dose and repeat the dose until a decided improvement. I continued this use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cts., guaranteed, at Penny's Drug Store.

Sixty one Normal school students were in the party that left for a trip to Mammoth Cave on Thursday last. In addition to this number, 27 made the trip through the country on foot, about eight of them being young ladies.—Bowling Green Courier.

* * * * * No total eclipse will be visible in New England or the middle States till Jan. 24, 1925. On June 20, 1935, will occur the longest eclipse for many centuries, totality lasting more than seven minutes in the Island of Luzon, at or very near Manila.

A THOUSAND TONGUES

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer of 1125 Howard st., Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption had cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life burdensome. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this Royal Cure: "It soon removed the pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarce remember doing before." So will everyone who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the throat, Chest or Lungs. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial postales free at Penny's Drug Store; every bottle guaranteed.

The Northern papers are growing in the face discussing the so-called snub of Gen. Wheeler at Charleston.

They say it was because he donned the blue after wearing the gray.

LANCASTER.

Extensive preparations are being made to decorate the graves in our cemetery on May 30.

On Thursday the residence of Mr. Brannon Beazley was consumed by fire. Loss about $1,500; insurance $800.

Messrs. W. C. Greening and J. H. Hocker, of Hintonville, were here last week figuring on a contract to build the Owsley block.

Casey M. Owsley was at home Saturday. I am glad to learn that he has begun the practice of law, in Lexington, with flattering prospects.

A large missionary contribution, $176, was taken up at the Christian church on Sunday after an able discourse by Elder C. E. Powell on the importance of missionary work.

Quite a number of our citizens went to Danville Monday to hear Hon. W. J. Stone speak. Three Confederates and five Federal veterans went in one vehicle and they are all for Mr. Stone.

Capt. Louis Landrum went to Louisville yesterday on important business. Sweeney Morgan and family visited Dr. Acton's family Sunday. The infant daughter of Dr. Acton is visiting her uncle and aunt, at Sweeney, this week.

John K. Faulkner Post will make a hard fight to have the G. A. R. encampment meet here in 1900. Many inducements will be offered, among them a picnic excursion to Camp Dick Robinson, eight miles from town, which was the first camp established in Kentucky.

Mrs. Susan S. Fessenden, of Boston, Mass., delivered a splendid address at the Christian church on Sunday evening under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. She is a lady of rare ability and culture, and it is a wonder that a man can take a drink after hearing such a lecture.

Those who are favorable to instructing for Gen. Hardin for governor are forming a club and will organize to bring the vote out. Many are thinking more seriously of our obligations to a district county, and the outlook is more flattering, although Stone and Goebel have a strong following in the county.

Messrs. J. M. Higginbotham, J. C. Robinson and J. E. Stormes were appointed a committee by the city board of council to investigate and report on the advisability of contracting for water works. I am told that many tax-payers have petitioned them to report favorably on the proposition.

It is claimed that besides the comfort, convenience and sanitary effects, such an enterprise would be a good investment, inasmuch as the rate of insurance on property would be reduced about one third. But as I have no tangible property, my estate being in bonds in the hands of other men, I shall let those who pay taxes decide the matter. It is also claimed that if the Southern railroad is extended, this city would certainly be the end of a division if we had water works, to say nothing about the prospects that would be opened up for establishing manufacturers.

RECRUITS FOR THE PHILIPPINES.—

The recruiting officer at Lexington, has just received orders to enlist a number of white men for service in the regiments now in the Philippine Islands. These men will be sent direct to San Francisco as soon as they are enlisted in Lexington, and from there they will be sent direct to Manila. This will make a fine trip around the world for able bodied unmarried men who want to see the world. Such persons should apply at the Recruiting Office in Lexington at once in order to get in before it is too late.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., - MAY 16, 1899

W. P. WALTON.

THE Confederate Veteran Association re-elected Gen. John B. Gordon commander-in-chief, Gen. Wade Hampton commander of the department of Northern Virginia, Gen. Stephen D. Lee commander of the department of Tennessee and Gen. W. L. Cabell, of the department of the Trans-Mississippi. W. J. Colquitt, of Atlanta, was elected commander-in-chief of the Sons of Confederate Veterans over R. E. Lee, of Virginia, and Louisville was chosen as the next place of meeting. Gen. Wheeler was one of the heroes of the hour and made a speech favoring expansion. After a fierce debate in which Rev. J. L. M. Curry declared there was no rebellion and no rebels, but a fight for principles and right, a substitute for Gen. S. D. Lee's resolution to accept the president's suggestion that the government care for Confederate graves was adopted, thanking Mr. McKinley for his sentiments and accepting the suggestion so far as it relates to the graves of Confederates buried in the North, but in the South the care of the graves is a sacred trust, dear to the hearts of Southern women, and must be always permitted to remain there. The weather conditions during the Charleston meeting were all that could be desired and the reunion, while not so largely attended as previously, was one of the most pleasant of the nine that have been held. The grand old heroes are fast answering to the final roll call and in a few years none will be left of those who fought and bled for the cause they loved, but their memories will ever live in the hearts of those for whom they suffered and to whom they will leave a priceless legacy of patriotism and honor.

SOME TIME ago when Urey Woodson jumped astride Harry Sommers and began to flagellate him, the latter turned the other side of the spanked parts and meekly said he never fought a friend. This soft answer turned away the wrath of the pugnacious Woodson, but when Sommers stated he and three or four others made liberal use of free L. & N. railroad tickets to bring voters to Elizabethtown to carry the Hardin county convention for Brown for governor, and asserted that the editor of the Messenger knew of it, he forgets himself again and says the statement is absolutely false and then jumps on "his friend" for trying to besmirch the character of Gov. Brown. If there is one thing more than another that will make Woodson fight it is to hear any one speak disparagingly of the ex-governor, who he thinks is the greatest man living or dead.

THE anti-corset crusade ought to feel a back-set in the news that a Wisconsin woman's life was saved by a corset, one of the steels deflecting a bullet fired by a jealous lover. Tight lacing is doubtless injurious to the health of those who practice it, but corsets that do not squeeze too hard are as necessary to make the female form look divine as feathers to a bird. Without them some women are as shapely as a bag of wool with a string tied in the middle, while others are as much without form and void as a bean pole. The rarest number of women can afford to go without them and where nature has been remiss in her bestowals, art should and will continue to provide, crusade or no crusade against corsets.

GOV. ROSEWELL P. FLOWER died suddenly at Eastport, L. I., of heart failure. He had been a sufferer from gastritis for some time, though he appeared in robust health, when he attended the Eastport Country Club. As congressman and as governor he served the Empire State acceptably. He went with the gold democrats in 1896 and has since figured little in politics. Everything he touched seemed to turn to gold and he leaves many millions, with a wife and only child, a married daughter, as lawful heirs.

THE proposition to raise $250,000 for a home and annuity for Dewey is the play of a newspaper for popular favor. Besides his prize money, which amounted to many thousands of dollars, he gets $13,000 a year, and will continue to get big pay after his retirement. A contribution for his benefit is therefore like greasing a fat sow. Those who want to take part in such business can do so, as for us we shall save our money for a more needy object.

THE republican papers are raising a hellbellow because Gov. Merriman, director of the census, is said to have suggested to Senator Deboe the propriety of naming a corps of census superintendents for Kentucky which shall comprise six republicans and five dems. There doesn't seem to be any reason for a kick. Democrats can count at least as good as republicans, except at election times after the election.

SUNDAY'S Louisville Dispatch has a picture of Gen. Watt Hardin charming that rattle snake. At least, it is supposed so, as it is a sort of pantomime performance with no names attached.

THE Rev. S. T. Martin, of Virginia, said in the Confederate reunion, while speaking against the resolution to accept the president's suggestion that the government take care of the Confederate graves, very sensibly took the ground that it had no business before the body. "We have," he said, "taken hold of an incidental remark of Mr. McKinley's looking to his coming election. There is no proposition from the president of the United States or from the Congress of the United States that they are going to do anything for our Confederate States and nothing said by the United States government that looks to the care of the graves of our soldiers in the Northern States. It puts us in the light of going before that government and asking for something from those who slew our men." Mr. Martin is right. There was no occasion to stop over at a remark made by McKinley solely to catch his audience and to further his ambition to succeed himself as president. When Congress says it will help take care of the graves, then it will be plenty of time to consider the question.

TAYLOR has finally announced his candidacy for governor and Stone is expected to shy his castor in the ring in a day or two. It is said that the plan of the republican machine is to run Stone for all he is worth in this part of the State and Taylor in the Western part and to combine on the strongest of the two. If Judge C. J. Pratt, of Madisonville, should develop more strength than either. Pratt had the temerity to announce his candidacy without consulting Deboe and his crowd and he will be made to suffer for his sin, though he is said to be an eminently respectable man and better qualified than either of the machine representatives. This is not a republican year, but if that party should put up such an ignoramus as the individual who brings contempt on the office of attorney general, it will court defeat and justly and very eminently deserve it.

In his speech at Munfordsville Saturday, Mr. Hardin worked himself into a fine frenzy and went for Stone and Goebel most savagely. He charged Goebel with having voted against an anti-trust bill in the Legislature and defied "the boss," as he called him and his machine, or any combination that he and Stone could make. Then he went for Stone, ridiculed his free silver record and accused him of conniving at the opposition to Blackburn's election. The whole speech was red hot stuff and if there is not a fight or a foot race before the campaign ends, all signs fail in this kind of weather.

On being shown a report of Mr. Hardin's speech, Senator Goebel said that the charges made by Hardin were absolutely false and promised to say something with reference to it in his speech at Winchester yesterday.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL has instructed its attorney to bring suit for heavy damages against the Louisville Times, naming its co-conspirator, R. W. Brown, as co-defendant, for the miserable caricature of its editor in yesterday's paper. Mr. Brown says all rural roosters look alike to a man who can't see, but we will show him how to trifle with the beauty of an Apollo Belvedere.

THE war of words between Editors Hetherington, of the Falcon, and Mattingly, of the Enterprise, both of Lebanon, has reached the acute stage when "cur," "skunk," "liar," "scoundrel, and "without the instincts of a gentleman" appear. If the thing is kept up one or the other is liable to get his feelings hurt, if there be no danger of bodily harm.

EDITOR ALLEN's letter from French Lick Springs, Ind., to the Cynthiana Democrat, makes mighty amusing reading, but if the managers of that resort know when they are well off, they had better pay the Kentuckian to stay away, or at any rate not to take his pen in hand. The "fat and sloppy women" there might also raise a pony purse to get his feelings hurt, if there be no danger of bodily harm.

THE next governor of Kentucky will be a republican" whistles the Louisville Commercial to keep up the waning courage of the party leaders. As elections under the Goebel bill will hereafter be fairly conducted, we would like to know upon what hypothesis Editor Gelatt predicates his prediction.

IF Attorney General Taylor's mug is like that the Louisville Commercial prints of him, he has only to show it around the State to have the people put their foot in it, that is if they can get it in with Taylor's already inside.

IT is telegraphed all over the country that McKinley, who is at Hot Springs, Va., for his gout, took a bath. If true this is not very startling unless it is not customary for republican presidents to wash themselves.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

C. E. Littlefield, of Rockland, Me., will succeed the late Congressman Dingley.

Breckinridge was the first county to hold a republican convention and it gave no instructions except for R. N. Miller, of that county, for attorney general. It was an anti Bradley meeting and the only indorsement the governor received was for his efforts to put down mob law.

Senator Lindsay, of Kentucky, has been invited to deliver the address before the joint meeting of the American Bar and International Associations at Buffalo. It is the highest honor the lawyers of the country can bestow upon a fellow-member of their profession.

Believes in Her Dream.

Ten miles west of Aurora, Ind., says a correspondent of the Cincinnati Tribune, making her home with her mother on a small farm, lives Lizzie Windhurst, aged 31. Seven years ago she experienced a singular dream which, she claimed, foretold her death. She told her dream to her friends and regarded it as a revelation. As the appointed time was only a few days off she prepared her burial clothes, then took to her bed and composedly awaited her dissolution, which she sincerely believed would occur on the fourteenth day of the month. The day dawned and the hours sped by until night ushered it out, and still she was alive. As her anticipated death did not occur, her friends endeavored to dissuade her from the idea of dying, but she could not be changed in her opinion, and concluded that the time meant was the 14th of the ensuing month, and she persisted in remaining in bed until that period should arrive. Eighty months have come and gone since the dream, but the girl has kept to her bed, refusing to even leave it for an hour, always asserting that she was soon to die, and wanted to be robed for the grave in the garments which her own hands had prepared for the purpose. Numberless times has Mrs. Cartwright, a kind neighbor, washed and ironed the grave clothes to humor the poor woman. Four times has she prepared new raiment for burial, still her faith has never been shaken in the dream. Her long confinement has at last robbed her of the use of her limbs to any great extent. In other respects the woman is reasonable and intelligent, but on the subject of her strange aberration she will brook no controversy, and her kindred and friends are compelled not to dispute with her on the subject in order to keep her from becoming alarmingly excited.

Kissing Court Bibles.

Magistrate Pool, of the Morrisania court, of New York, has turned the Bible out of his court. He is quoted as saying: "I won't swear anyone on the Bible, or tell them to kiss it. There is no law to compel anyone to do so. In court all manner of persons kiss the Bible, which in such places becomes a breeding of disease."

So hereafter he will swear folks in his court by having them hold up their hands. Court Bibles cannot be nice kissing, and police court Bible after a day's work must be a thing to be handled with tongs, right-ally remarks a writer in Harper's Weekly.

There may be, and probably are, persons who feel that they can speak more truthfully after kissing the Book, and perhaps for them a Bible ought to be available. But the habitual kissing of Bibles in court is a dreary and unsanitary performance which ought to fade out of every court just as soon as civilization in that locality reaches a point where it can be spared. Oaths made by placing the hand on the Bible, or by holding up the hand, or by whatever form most influences the witness' mind, are just as effective and just as binding as those in which the Bible is kissed.

In spite of the higher criticism, the Bible means a great deal to the average man, and perhaps its presence in courts is useful, but the formal kissing of it by witnesses is a fit custom to abolish.

The Boyle county plan of letting the breaking and spreading of the stone or gravel seems to be a much better plan than appropriating so much a mile for pikes. The county would then know exactly what it is getting for its money, whereas under the appropriation system it will never know.

STONE.—Capt. W. J. Stone was warmly received at Danville yesterday, when a large crowd heard him. He was introduced by Mr. Felix G. Fox in a highly eulogistic speech. Capt. Stone spoke for nearly two hours and was loudly and frequently applauded. He scored Gen. Hardin fore and aft, which was greatly enjoyed by the audience, largely composed of anti-Hardin men. It was Stone day at Danville and unless things change materially the captain will get Boyle's vote. He will speak here at 2 P. M. Tuesday, 30th, and at Lancaster at the same hour the day previous.

SIX YEARS.—That with a fine of $6,000, is the sentence imposed on Prof. B. F. Blakeman, who once had charge of the Hustonville Christian College, taught both in the Stanford Female College and the Male Seminary and later conducted Kirksville College. Afterwards he studied law and "practiced" in Danville. Then he went to Louisville and "practiced" once too often. He got in various scrapes in his efforts to get money and finally ran against a snag, when he attempted to blackmail a rich old man by accusing him of intimacy with a young girl and offering to shut up for $500. The girl's mother, the girl and a fellow named Davis were all in the conspiracy to blackmail and they all caught it heavily. Davis for the same time and fine as Blakeman, the mother for seven years and a fine of $6,000 and the girl two years in jail, with a recommendation to a reformatory. Blakeman's sentence including the fine, which will have to be worked out at $1 a day if not paid, will put him at hard labor for over 21 years. Blakeman showed a decided propensity while here to make debts and not pay them, but nothing of a criminal nature was brought against him and his friends, which included a number of young ladies, are much surprised and chagrined besides that they should have ever kept company with a convict.

THE fiscal court, after hearing the report from Squire Coffey and Attorney Helm, that no suitable man would accept the supervisorship of the turnpikes at the salary of $700 to $800 and give the bond required, decided to abandon the plan and appropriate so much a mile for each pike, men to be selected by the magistrates to see that the work is properly done, and report to the meeting to be held on the 19th. The following shows the amount appropriated per mile and the length of each pike:

Stanford & Crab Orchard, 9 m. at $50

Stanford & Lancaster, 6 m. at....

Stanford & Danville, 7 m. at....

Stanford & Hustonville, 9 m. at....

Stanford & Halls Gap, 10 m. at....

Hus'ville & Car. Creek, 4 m. at....

Hus'ville & Brad'ville, 2 1/2 m. at....

Hustonville & Danville, 7 m. at....

T. McK'k & Coffey's Mill, 6 1/2 m. at....

Knob Lick, 7 1/2 m. at....

Highland & Waynesburg, 7 m. at....

K. M. & Pleasant Point, 22 m. at....

Stanford & Ottenheim, 7 m. at....

Rush Branch, 6 m. at....

C. O. & Lancaster, 6 m. at....

S. D. R. Gar. Co. & W. O., 6 1/2 m. at....

Boyle & Lincoln County, 2 1/2 m. at....

McCormack & Tur'ville, 6 m. at....

Hus'ville & Moreland Sta., 4 m. at....

Hang, Fork & Green River, 5 m. at....

Stanford & Preachersville, 8 m. at....

Stanford & Milledgeville, 8 m. at....

Lancaster & Danville, 4 m. at....

Logan's Creek, 1 1/2 m. at....

It will be seen that these appropriations foot up more than $7,000, and the end is not yet.

The Boyle county plan of letting the breaking and spreading of the stone or gravel seems to be a much better plan than appropriating so much a mile for pikes.

The county would then know exactly what it is getting for its money, whereas under the appropriation system it will never know.

OWENSBORO wagons, Deering binders and mowers and repairs at Beazley & Carter's.

AFTER having rains, it was cold enough for fine Sunday, but not enough for frost. It is hot enough now for any purpose.

THE bridge over the St. Asaph on the Hustonville pike, was repaired yesterday, not a moment too soon. Marshal Newland with a small force, took down the railing, tore up the flooring, put two new sills in, refored it and replaced the railing all in 40 minutes. There was a considerable blockade of vehicles on both sides before he was through, but he worked so fast there was no complaint.

THE ex-Confederates of Boyle were banqueted at the Clemens House Danville, yesterday by Tip and Harry Bruce. The Advocate says that about 1 o'clock Capt. Richards summoned the boys to dinner with a bugle call, when the column set in double-quick march toward the dining room. The decorations there were artistic and in keeping with the occasion. The dinner prepared by Capt. Richards and his most excellent wife, was a splendid interpretation of genuine old Kentucky cooking. It was not served "a la carte," or strung out in small dishes, through seven or eight courses, leaving a man as hungry as when he sat down, but was put on the table in regular barbecue style and in quantities sufficient to feed a multitude. Capt. Wm. J. Stone occupied the head of the table and Dr. E. M. Green the foot. Dr. Green asked the blessing. About 50 veterans enjoyed the feast.

Soldier and Sailor Intelligence.

The 3rd Kentucky is being mustered out at Savannah today.

The 16th Infantry has been ordered to sail for Manila, May 29.

The 3rd Nebraska, Col. W. J. Bryan's regiment, has been mustered out.

In the county of Greenbrier, W. Va., the assessor found 25 babies named Dewey.

The transport Hancock, with the 21st Infantry, broke the record by reaching Manila from San Francisco in 22 days. She did not make a stop.

The committee of arrangements at the Charleston reunion seems to have been novices. It failed to assign Gen. Wheeler a place in the parade and ignored Gov. Candler, of Georgia, and his 50 colonels, although the governor is an ex Confederate.

The New York Times suggests that the newspapers raise a fund for a Dewey memorial. It says that the 500 largest papers could average $500 in collections which would aggregate $250,000. Then could be built a Dewey mansion where ever he selects as a location and have the balance for an endowment for life, the same as England recognized Wellington by presenting him the estate of Stratheidsby.

Though he will leave Manila in a few days, Admiral Dewey will not reach the United States until September. He and the crew of the Olympia are in great need of rest and shore exercise, and will spend some time in various ports. In reply to invitations to banquets at New York and San Francisco, he has cabled that the state of his health demands rest.
